

I strongly disagree with the use of cell phones on airline flights. It is bad enough that you are packed like sardines on the planes but if you have 50 people carrying on conversations there would be extremely disruptive. I hope the use of the internet does not come up either. I don't want my son to see someone surfin porn on an airplane. Thank you for this opportunity to speak my mind.